Dear Valued Customer,

Re: Proposition 65 Warning Language

This letter is in response to your recent "Proposition 65" declaration request related to certain MAC Valves' products shipped in California.

The Safe Drinking Water and Toxic Enforcement Act was adopted in the State of California as a voter initiative (Proposition 65) in November 1986. It provides for restrictions on exposure to and use of certain chemicals which have been determined by the State of California to cause cancer or reproductive toxicity. Proposition 65 requires that business operating in California as well as businesses marking products in California put warnings on any product containing listed chemicals unless the seller has tests that prove the product meets Proposition 65 exposure level standards.

MAC Valves has instituted a company-wide policy to label all products that are shipped to or sold to consumers in California with the required Proposition 65 warning language. There are over nine hundred (900) chemicals on the Proposition 65 list and many MAC Valves products have one or more of the listed chemicals in it. For example steel, brass, rubber and most machined metals have small amounts of the listed chemicals in them. MAC Valves has determined that conducting the necessary testing to certify exposure levels are beneath the Proposition 65 standards on all products would be costly, difficult and time consuming. MAC Valves is placing the warning on products to ensure compliance with the California law.

Should you have further questions regarding the warning language, please contact us with specific product information and exposure concerns.
